

The Owner will use Two Hundred Sixty Three Thousand Dollars ($263,000.00) in HOME funds to help acquire real property for a rental housing project, Irving Park Apartments, which will provide affordable housing and services to homeless and special needs populations. The Project will contain, after rehabilitation, 64 units: 56 one bedroom units and 8 two bedroom units. Twenty (20) of the one bedroom units will be HOME-assisted and the HOME subsidy will be $13,150.00 per unit, which is less than the Section 221 (D) (3) limit for a one (1) bedroom elevator-type project in Memphis in 2004. Each unit shall be comparable in size and features. The HOME-assisted units will be designated floating units, which may vary over time but the total number of HOME-assisted units in project stays constant. The Owner may use HOME funds only for eligible acquisition costs during the development of the project. Following acquisition and rehabilitation using FHLB funds, the Owner will affirmatively market the housing to ensure compliance with Fair Housing requirements and shall ensure compliance with occupancy, property standards, and income eligibility rules over a 5-year affordability period. All residents in the HOME-assisted units will meet HUD's very low-income guidelines and the Owner will ensure that the income of no resident of the HOME assisted units will exceed 50% of the Memphis/Shelby County Metropolitan Statistical Area median income during the 5-year affordability period. Additionally, residents of the HOME assisted units shall be homeless and/or members of a special needs population, which shall include persons with disabilities. During the affordability period, tenants shall be charged rent no higher than the maximum low HOME rent, which in this case must be no greater than thirty (30) percent of tenant's monthly adjusted income. The tenants in the HOME-assisted units must meet HOME requirements. The HOME funds will be used to pay costs described in EXHIBIT A, which is incorporated herein by this reference.

Re: PILOT Agreements for Low-Income Senior Housing Taxation

Dear MR. BAKER:

I am responding to your letter dated April 14, 2008 regarding the issue of payments in lieu of taxes (PILOT) agreements for low-income senior housing. I have spoken to you and David Lowrance on several occasions. Let me explain what my position has been regarding this issue.

Historically, the duly executed PILOT agreements that have been submitted to our office for property tax exemption purposes have been entered into and signed by officials from both the city and the county. This has been true for other cities and counties across the state. From our discussions, I understood that the City of Memphis had delegated its authority to enter into these PILOT agreements to your agency. However, from the beginning, my concern has been whether Shelby County had done the same. This was especially true in light of the vested interest the county has in properties being removed from its tax rolls. The applicable statutory provision, T.C.A. § 67-5-207 (a) (2), reads in part as follows:

"In lieu of any taxes for which a property is granted exemption under this section, the owners of projects that exceed twelve (12) units shall agree to make payments to any county, municipality, metropolitan government, or district for improvements, facilities or services rendered by the county, municipality, metropolitan government or district".

From handling property tax exemptions, I am aware that, for property tax purposes, the City of Memphis recognizes exemptions granted for county property taxes. Your letter stated that the resolution by the Memphis City Council pointed out that the grant of power to your agency to enter into PILOT agreements was "part of the reciprocity agreement between the City of Memphis and Shelby County government".

Health Ed & Housing Board

If the county wishes to delegate its authority under T.C.A. § 67-5-207 to your agency, my concern regarding compliance with the applicable statute would be satisfied. However, our office will need the following: (a) a copy of the resolution adopted by the Memphis City Council on December 18, 2007; and (b) some written documentation manifesting the consent by the governing body of Shelby County to allow The Health, Educational and Housing Facility Board (HEHFB) to act on behalf of the county regarding PILOT agreements pursuant to T.C.A. § 67-5-207. I would think the latter would also be in the form of a resolution.

If you have questions, please feel free to contact me or Mr. Kelsie Jones, the Executive Secretary of the State Board of Equalization.

Sincerely,

Sabrina Williams

Two banks to boost housing

By Jerome Obermark

obermark@gomemphis.com

Two Memphis banks will distribute $4.5 million in federal loans and grants within six to 12 months to nonprofit sponsors of affordable housing programs in Tennessee, Mississippi and North Carolina.

The money will help build, renovate or rehabilitate housing for low-income people and people with special needs, said Melissa Dallas, vice president of Federal Home Loan Bank of Cincinnati.

The regional federal reserve bank serves commercial banks in Ohio, Tennessee and Kentucky.

The Memphis banks are receiving 43 percent of $10.5 million awarded in the first round of project selections this year. Kentucky and Ohio banks received the remainder.

"It's very competitive. We received more applications from Tennessee banks than any other state in this latest round."

— Carol Peterson

A second round of about another $10.5 million will be selected this fall.

Union Planters and National Bank of Commerce each will disburse more than $2 million to fund 11 projects.

"We are willing to sponsor as many applicants as we receive," said Marsh Campbell, senior vice president/director and manager of community reinvestment for Union Planters Corp.

The federal reserve bank's selection process involves different criteria to help them choose projects that serve the largest numbers of people who are most in need of affordable housing, said Keith Turbett, corporate community reinvestment act officer for National Commerce Financial Corp., parent of National Bank of Commerce.

NBC received approvals of three large projects, including one $960,000 grant to rehabilitate 64 apartment units in Memphis, and two loans totaling more than $1 million for apartment projects in North Carolina.

Union Planters received approvals for nine applicants ranging from small grants to provide affordable housing counseling in Tiptonville and Mason, Tenn., to large loans and grants for apartment projects in Greenville, Como and Hernando, Miss.

Nonprofit sponsors wanting funding typically come to the bank for assistance in preparing applications, Turbett said.

Carol Peterson, Federal Home Loan Bank senior vice president and director of Housing and Community Investment, has worked numerous nonprofit organizations in Tennessee in the past 18 months to improve awareness of the loans and grants.

Of 164 applications received from banks in three states, 57 nonprofit sponsors were selected.

"It's very competitive," Peterson said. "We received more applications from Tennessee banks than any other state in this latest round."

All 12 federal reserve banks have awarded 10 percent of their annual earnings for affordable housing programs.

Grant helps sustain nonprofit mission

By Jerome Obermark

obermark@gomemphis.com

Valerie Bobo is excited because her nonprofit organization will be able to continue its mission with a $960,000 grant from the Federal Home Loan Bank in Cincinnati.

A former mental health professional, Bobo is executive director of SHIELD Inc., founded three years ago.

It links community resources such as mental health counseling, job placement assistance and training programs with people who need them.

"The mission is to continue to serve people with low incomes and disabilities," Bobo said.

Through a mutual friend, Bobo met Percy Irving last year. Irving is a California resident who owns Irving Park Apartments at 2452 Ketchum Cove just east of Airways near Interstate 240.

"He has a heart for persons with disabilities," she said.

Irving Park Apartments houses a mix of low-income people, including formerly homeless people and tenants with physical and mental disabilities.

Irving hired Bobo and SHIELD to manage the apartment property last September.

Through SHIELD, Bobo has drawn representatives of social services and community support resources to the apartment residents, and applied for a grant through National Bank of Commerce to acquire half ownership and renovate the property.

"We have brought people in to conduct parenting classes, made tenants aware of transportation opportunities with MATA," she said. "We have a summer program for children."

The grant will fund a major renovation of the three-building complex of 65 units, a complex that once was a Holiday Inn.

The federal home loan bank's grant was the largest in the first round of project selections to support affordable housing this year, said Carol Peterson, senior vice president and director of housing and community investment for FHLBank in Cincinnati.

Renovation work will include new roofs, replacement of walls with large expanses of glass, new mechanical equipment and insulated doors, said John Emberton, an associate with Jimmy Hudspeth, an architect in West Memphis.
